

Position: Arthrex Arthroplasty Surgical Sales Consultant

Job Description: The Arthrex Surgical Sales Consultant will be responsible for all aspects of sales in the territory for the Arthrex Arthroplasty family of products including but not limited to the UniversII shoulder prosthesis, fracture stem and plate, HTO product line, power equipment, etc. This product line is among the most heavily invested product families at Arthrex and will expand greatly in the future. These products are recognized, as being the most innovative in the Orthopedic industry. There will also be a biologic line of autograft and allograft products to market.

The position requires the ability to assimilate and learn a high level of technical information, anatomy and indications as it relates to surgery and procedures. Sales Consultant will spend the majority of time in surgery interacting with both staff and surgeons. Must have good time management skills and ability to manage personal surgical equipment and inventory.

Required Skills: B.S Degree or equivalent mandatory 2 years experience in Medical Sales (Orthopedic total joint experience will be given more consideration)

Background in sports, sports medicine or competition preferred

Great communication skills and time management experience

Ability to maintain inventory of consigned products

Knowledge and background of Human Anatomy Competent in basic windows based operating system (MS Word, Powerpoint, Excel, Email, etc.)

Position Type: Full Time, typically more than 40 hours per week and will include some weekend call.

Job Locations:

Alaska: Anchorage

California: Bakersfield, Tri Valley/East Bay, Ventura/Santa Barbara, and Santa Rosa

Idaho: Boise Nevada: Reno

Oregon: Salem/Bend and Portland

Washington: Vancouver, Tacoma, and Olympia

Relocations will not be considered Please submit your resume to:
jobs@pacmedical.com